

Nick Beduhn WSB# 6-3763
P.O. Box 1149
Buffalo, WY 82834
307-899-2338
nick.freedomfighter@gmail.com

IN THE FOURTH DISTRICT COURT FOR THE STATE OF WYOMING

Crosby Taylor, et al.,	)	FILED 4TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT
Petitioners	)	CASE NO. _____
vs	)	Case No . CV-2021-0009
	)	APR 01 2021
Governor Gordon, et. at.,	)	JOHNSON COUNTY, WYOMING Respondents	)

Clerk of District Court

---

PETITIONERS' REPLY TO RESPONDENT'S MOTIONS TO DISMISS

---

COMES NOW the Petitioners through their attorney Nick Beduhn, to reply and oppose the Motions to Dismiss filed by the Respondents.

As to the error of the discrepancies between the headings of the Petition and the summons, it was the result of staff mistakenly copying the first page from an older draft rather than the final Petition that was filed; and unfortunately, not noticed by Petitioners' attorney. Petitioners' attorney apologizes for the confusion that it's caused. As the two individuals identified by the Respondents were not in the body of the Petition, there was nothing and no reason to address them. Aside from some minor confusion, the error was harmless, and again, Petitioners' attorney apologizes to the AG and the court.

Before addressing the itemized reasons set forth by the AG, I bring forth to the court the off-the-cuff response of one of the Petitioners upon reading the AG's memorandum in support, which simply was: "OH the irony! While objecting that we didn't meet a certain standard, which is discretionary, they failed to meet not only the statutory criteria regarding the declaring of an emergency, but didn't even try to comply with known legal standards such as least restrictive means and narrowly drawn approach." That not only pretty well sums up the position of the Respondents, but Petitioners advance the clean hands doctrine which the Petitioners pray the court will apply to its decision. With only a few exceptions, "Follow and obey our orders and mandates whether they be legitimate or not; even attacks from other governmental departments such as the Dept of Revenue."

two sentences of the Introduction/Background on page two:

And this attitude continues in Respondents' memorandum in support with the first

"The petition is essentially a catalogue of general grievances and overall dissatisfaction with how the respondents have handled aspects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Based upon their unhappiness and dissatisfaction, . . ."

"This lawsuit is a classic example of the type of case that raises purely academic requirement is intended to preclude: a case that raises the justifiability

The Respondents continue this attitude and mischaracterization on page three:

Thus, to be clear, this is a legal challenge to the Respondents' unlawful actions and against the unlawful acts of the Respondents.

Wyoming citizen. The Petitioners are but a very, very tiny few that are willing to stand up of the Respondents have resulted in numerous Rights violations that have affected EVERY the unlawful decisions and actions of the Respondents. The unlawful decisions and actions testing, to contradictory mask recommendations and mandates, is all directly attributable to meaningless by using an easily manipulated procedure not meant designed for diagnostic the citizens of Wyoming, from the closing of businesses, to meaningless testing made requirements and by completely ignoring mandatory legal standards. The damage done to individuals and society totally by way of ignoring State and federal statutory criteria and Wyoming. And they have achieved unnecessary and across-the-board damages to clear, the Respondents have directly caused the greatest upheaval of society in the history of Respondents to minimize the intent and purpose of the Petitioners and their Petition. To be These statements are a complete mischaracterization and an attempt by the situated; Petitioners' fatal flaw is that they have failed to allege any specific facts that a judgment in their favor will have an immediate and real effect on them."

petitioners have also brought this lawsuit on behalf of "others similarly COVID-19 public health emergency. This is confirmed by the fact that interest lawsuit to air grievances about how respondents have handled the whom a political axe to grind. Indeed, petitioners intend this to be a public whose unhappiness about the general operation of state government gives matters, brought by persons who have no genuine right or intent at stake and

One of the few things fairly stated by the Respondents is that this is "a public interest "political"; but legal issues and questions.

governmental actors ignore during an actual or alleged emergency? Clearly, these are not practices and procedures. How many provisions of our State and federal constitutions can proper application of long held legal standards; proper adherence to standard medical court are not "political", but legal: A fair and proper reading and application of statutes; questions, not "purely academic matters". The issues brought by the Petitioners before this

A plain and obvious reading of the petition raises the most serious legal issues and from this posture that Petitioners have taken a stand and filed this Petition.

emergency – is one of the most important issues that a free society will ever face. And it is that questions of governmental authority – especially during times of a legitimate or alleged legal standards; not mere "unhappiness" or simple "dissatisfaction". The Petitioners submit various so-called "aspects" which the Respondents try to minimize and mischaracterize are questionable legality was pointed out to them by citizens including some Petitioners. The statutory criteria and requirements and mandatory legal standards even after their

Yet, it is to the Respondents' repeated failure and refusal to comply with State and federal to minimize the Plaintiffs' actual legal challenge as "grievances and overall dissatisfaction".

decisions. To be plain-spoken and precise, the Respondents mischaracterized and are trying *unnecessary because in their pleadings the appellants had shown a complete understanding of the statutes public education" rather than identifying a particular statute. 106 The court sound further specificity District No. One v. Hirschler, a case in which the appellants asserted the unconstitutional nature of "the system of financing public education. In their briefs, the appellants challenged Wyoming's system of financing the elements. For example, the first Brimmer element was noticeably relaxed in Washakie County School application of the Brimmers met all four elements. A number of these classes are worth a closer look because the court's started the plaintiffs met all four elements. In other cases invoking the public interest exception, the court discussed the Brimmer test and the matter. In other cases invoking the public interest exception, the court discussed the Brimmer test and applying the Brimmer test, finding the existence of a great public interest gave the court jurisdiction over at pg 155: "Often times, after determining the issue was of great public interest, the court dispensed with* relaxed when matters of great public interest of importance are presented to the trial court." 96. Finally determine the rights of the parties. Even these preexisting, however, may properly be avoided or between adversarial parties, and the trial court must be able to make an effective judgment which will give the trial court jurisdiction. For that controversy to exist, a genuine right or interest must be at issue declaratory relief should be liberally administered if the elements of a justiciable controversy exist to relaxation of the requirement for a justiciable controversy to a justification for standing," stating: in Memorial Hospital v. Department of Revenue & Taxation, the court extended the exception from "A year after Brimmer, the court stated in Cranston v. Thompson that in the absence of the other Brimmer elements, an overriding public interest alone was not enough to assert justiciability. 94 However, the Brimmer exception must be employed with caution. 93 implied in a case, it can stand in for the legal equivalent of a justiciable controversy. 92 Nevertheless, the interest of importance." 91 The third Brimmer element clearly states that if a matter of great public interest is requiring the existence of justiciable controversies is not followed or is relaxed in matters of great public requiring the existence of justiciable controversies is to constitute the legal equivalent of all of them. 90 Further articulating the public interest exception, the Brimmer court stated, "[T]here is a well recognized exception that the rule overriding public moment regarding the law or a legal relationship, or "warning these qualities to be of such great and final judgment regarding the controversy must be one in which the court's decision will have the effect of a at pg. 153 The Third Brimmer Element & The Public Interest Exception

<https://scholarship.law.uwyo.edu/wt/vol10/iss1/5>
1. See: Steele, Amy (2010) "Civil Procedure - The Wyoming Supreme Court Construes the Public Interest Exception of the Declaratory Judgments Act; William F. West Ranch, L.L.C., v. Tyrrell, 206 P.3d 722 (Wyo. 2009)." Wyoming Law Review: Vol. 10 : No. 1, Article 5. Available at:

similarly situated." How so? How does setting forth "others similarly situated" confirm publicly refer to them. This lawsuit is exactly the type of case for which the justifiability requirement is intended. Contending just the opposite, the Respondents assert that "this is confirmed by the fact that petitioners have also brought this lawsuit on behalf of others

2. Brimmer v. Thomson 521 P2d 574 and how the statutes affected them." (footnotes omitted; emphasis added)

And last, but not least, in their attempt to mischaracterize and minimize the intent and stamding; and the court has jurisdiction.

public interest case exception. As such, the Petitioners, each and every one of them, have two requirements of the Brimmer<sup>2</sup> test, but that even if they haven't, this case is clearly a

The Petitioners believe, and therefore contend, that not only have they met the first prevent just such a situation?

dozens of lawsuits by hundreds of citizens? Or was the public interest exception intended to them raising the same legal issues and questions? Does the AG really want to have to field the proper approach and solution to file dozens of public interest lawsuits – each one of approach as a few grows into dozens, which in turn will likely grow into the hundreds? Is issues and questions are the same. This raises the questions, how does and what is the proper the citizens. And while the facts and particular situation of each person differs, the legal expected, this is exactly what has been happening as word of the case has spread among us unlawful acts, many more would come forth and be more willing to do the same. And, as fellow citizens willing to stand up and make a legal challenge against the Respondents'

Petitioners, and their counsel, thought and expected that once citizens saw a few of their Respondents reasoning. All others similarly situated, expresses what has come to pass: that their contention? Frankly, neither the Petitioners nor their counsel understand the the court simply allow the Petitioners to file a motion to amend their petition accordingly.

feels that such obvious conclusions and effects must be out-right stated in the Petition, that

Neverthless, rather than being a fatal flaw, the Petitioners contend that if the court understands this, the Petitioners have total confidence that the court does.

"have an immediate and real effect on them". And while the Respondents may not getting life back to normal for all citizens, including the Petitioners, would, axiomatically, assert that putting an end to the unlawful acts of the Respondents, which would result in Quite frankly, the Petitioners thought such causality was obvious. The Petitioners and political meetings."

such as open and safe space for public gatherings such as business conferences these taxpayer public spaces to be fully utilized as they have been designed standards to resume. And by allowing libraries to reopen, it would open the result in allowing schools and libraries to reopen allowing normal educational threat of retaliation. A judgment in their favor and against the Respondents will think is best for themselves and their dependents, without retaliation or the based upon known and long held standards of practice and procedures as they make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are associate as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can

"A judgment in their favor and against the Respondents will result in allowing the Petitioners to get back to a normal life where they can freely speak and make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can associate as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can

make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can

associate as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can

make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can make decisions, including medical decisions pursuant to Article I § 38, that are

baseless as they so choose, without fear of retaliation; and where they can

To this the Petitioners concur in part and disagree in part. The Petitioners agree that it

"Petitioners' fatal flaw is that they have failed to allege any specific facts that a judgment in their favor will have an immediate and real effect on them."

Purpose of the Petitioners and their Petition, the Respondents contend that:

3 Some of whom are still unknown. Some of whom are expected to come to light through testimony and examination.

"I then received a follow up email stating that he, Director Noble, had acted at the direction of the government's office. Worse yet, the email response makes it clear that it is because I choose to exercise my right to express myself regarding the current situation and my feelings about Governor Gordon."

In his affidavit, Crosby Taylor stated in part:

As to the specific objections of each Petitioner:

the corporals and privates each individually? Or is listing the Generals sufficient to itemize and list every individual by specific name. Put another way, is it a requirement to list the employees of such entities. The Petitioners believe that it is not necessary nor required to

"Does 1-100" covers all such entities and individual personnel such as the Dept. of Revenue and individual employees within the Dept., as well as librarians and recreation facilities and the courts attention to the listed "DOES 1-100". Petitioners assert that this referencing were not included as respondents. Addressing this lack of inclusion first, Petitioners direct

The Respondents also complain that certain entities, such as the Dept of Revenue,

- a. Not enough facts were stated as to the rights of each petitioner.
- b. Not enough facts were stated as to damage to each petitioner.

categories:

and objections to specific Petitioners. These assertions and objections fall into two purposes of the Petitioners and their Petition, Respondents raise specific assertions

Following their attempt to mischaracterize and minimize the intent and Clearly, Petitioner Taylor DID NOT have a tax problem; or any problem with the Dept of Revenue. Petitioner Taylor was exercising his Right to express himself, and he was then targeted – BY Respondent Gordon no less. But rather than retaliating directly, Gordon tried to use the Dept of Revenue as a weapon against Taylor. Respondents' counsel tries to totally twist this targeting and retaliation into "a dispute about purchasing liquor for their bar . . . and a dispute about sales tax delinquencies." (Resp. Mem. pg.4) This is a completely false statement by Respondents' counsel as will be proven with e-mails and tax records when Petitioner Taylor gets to testify.

The limited issue before the court is whether Petitioner Taylor has standing or not. Respondents' contention is that: a. Not enough facts were stated as to the rights of each petitioner. And b. Not enough facts stated as to damage, to each petitioner. Petitioners' counsel respectfully submits that on his own, Petitioner Taylor meets the Brimmer test and that the answer to his standing is in the affirmative.

Respondents' objection to Petitioner Skagen is not really an objection at all; but rather just a restatement of what she stated in her affidavit. Petitioner Skagen brings two separate issues to the court. The first is her rights as are protected by Article 1 § 38 of the Wyoming Constitution. The second is the damage done to her and her family directly rather than just a restatement of what she stated in her affidavit. Petitioner Skagen brings two separate issues to the court. The first is her rights as are protected by Article 1 § 38 of the Wyoming Constitution. The second is the damage done to her and her family directly for the very clear rights violation on the privates and corporals. In short, Petitioner Bjork Stachon, and Wyoming Dep't. of Health. In essence, the Generals want to place all the blame occurred had it not been for the unlawful acts of Respondents Gordon, Harris, Ceballas, is not as the centre situation, with the mayor and Chief of Police, would not even have "but not any of the respondents in this case." While the first statement is correct, the second that his allegation "concern the Mayor of Rock Springs, . . . and the Chief of Police . . ."; After summarizing the facts regarding Harold Bjork, Respondents counsel contends addressed by the Respondents.

<sup>4</sup> See Petitioners Memorandum in Support attached hereto.

<sup>5</sup> Id.

inserted back to the Petition in its amended filing; and thus, was not and could not be Petitioner Janell Willer will not be addressed for the reason that she was just reof Title 21 U.S.C. § 360bbb-3(e)(1)(A)(iii)(I-III).

mask mandate without fully informing the citizens of the right to refuse which is a violation part, why this case meets the public interest exception. For example, issuing orders and court to decide. But the legal issues brought before the court by Petitioner Skagen are in expressed enough in her affidavit to meet either of the first two prongs of Brimmer is for the issue broad mandates that interfere with the sanctity of a family unit. Whether or not she believe, and thus contend that there is no authority – even during an actual emergency – to Petitioners submit that maintaining a family "as a unit" is in itself a natural right. Petitioners attributable to the unlawful actions and decisions of the Respondents. Furthermore,

"Petitioner Eckhardt later learned that the county attorney is keeping the door open to refiling the charges. Since learning of this, Petitioner Eckhardt has to is ignored by Respondents' counsel is the rest of the story.

The objection to Petitioner Billie Eckhardt is that "the charges were dismissed." What by the Respondents.

accepted as a Petitioner in the amended filing; and thus, was not and could not be addressed

Petitioner Tamara Weaver will not be addressed for the reason she was just the Generals, is included as one of the 1-100 Does. not have standing. Petitioner McComb clearly has standing. And the school, lower in rank to simply states that the school is not named as a Respondent. There is no claim that she does

After summarizing the facts regarding Jessica McComb, counsel for the Respondents

This underscores why this is a public interest exception under Brimner.

Nothingtheless, the rights violations of such individuals is just as real as Petitioner Bjork's.

State who are too scared of retaliation and ultimately choose not to be a Petitioner.

or another. Petitioners' parallel has personally talked with dozens of individuals across the threatened and/or criminally charge for doing nothing more than trying to exercise one right unique. Petitioners believe and contend that hundreds across the State have been harassed, Additionally, Petitioners hope the court will take note that the Bjork incident is not even punished for doing so. Clearly, Petitioner Bjork's standing meets the Brimner test.

not only stated that he was trying to exercise a right, but then how he was prevented and counsel merely summarizes their statements; but makes no claim that they lack standing or

As to Petitioners Conservative Comer and Love America Laramee, Respondents' on her own merits, she meets the first two prongs of Brimmer.

Respondents Gordon, Hartist, Ceballos, Hartman, and Wyoming Dep't. of Health. As such, and expression were totally trampled on by the direct and repeated unlawful acts of gravely affected. Her rights to freely express her religious beliefs, to peaceably assemble Beyond that, Petitioner Nielson stated that she belonged to different groups that were direct unlawful actions?

our entire society upside down and inside out with such out-right, non-stop, repeated and government officials, from top to bottom, with only a few limited exceptions, totally turned as an admission that this case is a public interest case. When was the last time that complaints about the struggles of all Wyoming citizens ... " Petitioners' counsel accepts this Respondents' counsel summarizes Petitioner Melody Nielson's allegations as: "general

Respondents Gordon, Hartist, Ceballos, Allais, and Wyoming Dep't. of Health.

again, the entire situation was directly caused by the many and repeated unlawful acts of citizen should have to live in fear from any government officer or personnel. And once

Not only is there no claim that she does not have standing, but it is axiomatic that no be arrested?"

live under duress daily; wondering if this day will be the day criminal charges are refuted against her. And, when they are, will it be by citation. Or will she that the court lacks jurisdiction. In addition to having standing as parties of interest in this public interest case, these Petitioners rely on the sacredness of their first amendment rights, which have been seriously trampled upon by several of the Respondents. Petitioners respectfully submit that each and every one of them meets the Brimmer test and that this case clearly qualifies as a public interest case. For all that is said in the Respondents' memorandum in support of their motion to dismiss, they actually said very little to actually support their motion. It's filled with summaries and lies – some by distortions and some by omissions. And contrary to the contention that the Petition fails to contain "essential facts", the Petition is filled with essential facts as to all the Petitioners and to the merits of the unlawful acts of the Respondents.

This finally brings us to the argument and contention that there is no justifiable controversy<sup>8</sup> as is asserted by the Respondents. What? The Petition is rife with justifiable controversies and filled with serious legal issues and questions, along with reasonable complaints and settle those controversies and legal issues.

Added all together, as set forth herein, the Petitioners believe and assert that they have met and satisfied the pleading requirements to be heard on the merits of the case and the relief sought. Not only is it a public interest case, but of the highest order.

Last but not least, Respondents object to Petitioners' request of a writ of mandate relief. Not only is it a public interest case, but of the highest order.

Nick Beddum

Respondents this 12 day of April, 2021.
Petitioners' Reply To Respondents' Motions To Dismiss a copy hereof to all current
I, the undersigned, do hereby certify that I served a copy of the foregoing

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

Nick.Beddum.WSB# 6-3763
P.O. Box 1149
Buffalo, WY 82834
307-899-2338
nick.freedmigighter@gmail.com

Submitted this 12 day of April, 2021.

of proper statutory and/or constitutional authority."

deems necessary to prohibit and/or deter any and all of the Respondents from acting outside of the relief sought. Furthermore, Petitioners have also sought "such other relief as the Court requests is not a basis for dismissal of the entire case, but at most simply denying that portion court's consideration. Nevertheless, Petitioners assert that the inclusion of a writ of mandate (Docs 1-100 such as all the various testing facilities), the Petitioners included such for the unlawful acts of the Respondents acting in accord with the many corporals and privates within Court four. To the extent of the context of this case and the many and repeated